SUCCESS TIPS

- Work hard to develop your accuracy by learning the spelling of key vocabulary and verbs. You will need to prove this under exam conditions.
- Proof read your work critically – Get into good habits!
- Make sure that your books are well presented and organised, all sheets stuck in the relevant place.
- Make full use of your resources to support your work and experiment with unfamiliar language in class or for homework. If you don't know you can find out!
- Invest time and care into the end of sub-topic assessments and preparation documents as this will be an excellent revision tool before your exam. Take pride in your assessment preparation book.
- Use verb tables and grammar notes to check work. Familiarise yourself with tense changes and learn key verbs. Practise verb tenses, using verb cards to move more confidently from one tense to another.
- Purchase a Collins Easy Learning German Verb book and dictionary and download the dictionary app. wordreference.com on your phone. Also try www.verb2verb.com to help with verbs.
- Improve your listening and reading skills by purchasing AQA study guides available soon in school. Try apps like Duolingo, Newshound and Busu and also BBC Languages.
- Borrow or subscribe to the Mary Glasgow magazine to broaden vocabulary and enhance reading and listening skills about current, fun topics for young people.
- If you are struggling attend the support clinic on Thursday lunch times.
- Develop strategies to access more unfamiliar language in preparation for the exam.
- Be aware that good writing scores come from the inclusion of a RANGE of tenses, opinions and the building up of complex sentences. Recycle language! Be brave!
- Access as much German culture as possible for example French films, magazines, websites and trips.
